Services Sector in India

Introduction

The services sector is not only the dominant sector in India’s GDP, but has also attracted significant foreign investment flows, contributed significantly to exports as well as provided large-scale employment. India’s services sector covers a wide variety of activities such as trade, hotel and restaurants, transport, storage and communication, financing, insurance, real estate, business services, community, social and personal services, and services associated with construction.

Market Size

The services sector is the key driver of India’s economic growth. The sector is estimated to contribute around 54.0 per cent of India’s Gross Value Added in 2017-18 and employed 28.6 per cent of the total population. India’s net services exports reached US$ 57.60 billion during April-December 2017.

Nikkei India Services Purchasing Managers Index grew from 47.80 in February 2018 to 50.30 in March 2018, supported by growth in Information & Communications and Finance & Insurance.

As per Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation’s second advance estimates of National Income 2017-18, services sector GVA is expected to grow to US$ 1,266.10 million in FY18.

According to a report called ‘The India Opportunity’ by leading research firm Market Research Store, the Indian mobile services market is expected to reach $37 billion in 2017 and grow by 10.3 per cent year-on-year to reach US$ 103.9 billion by 2020.

Out of overall services sector, the sub-sector comprising financial services, real estate and professional services contributed US$ 305.8 billion or 20.5 per cent to the GDP. The sub-sector of community, social and personal services contributed US$ 188.2 billion or 12.6 per cent to the GDP.

Investments

The Indian services sector which includes financial, banking, insurance, non-financial/business, outsourcing, research and development, courier and technical test analysis, has attracted FDI equity inflows in the period April 2000 - December 2017, amounting to about US$ 64.10 billion according to the Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP).

Some of the developments and major investments by companies in the services sector in the recent past are as follows:

- Private Equity (PE) investments in the hospitality industry rose nearly three-fold to US$ 119 million in 2017 from US$ 43.58 million in 2016. Hotel deals, including mergers and acquisitions, are expected to pick up further in 2018 as many premium hotel properties are up for sale.

- American fast food chain McDonalds is reopening 84 of its closed restaurants, increasing the total number of operational restaurants across north and east India to 169.

- National Skill Development Corporation has signed a tripartite Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Tourism and Hospitality Sector Skill Council (THSC) and Airbnb to impart hospitality skills training to hospitality micro-entrepreneurs in India.

- The domestic and foreign logistic companies are optimistic about prospects in the logistics sector in India, and are actively making investments plans to improve earnings and streamline operations.

Government Initiatives

The Government of India recognises the importance of promoting growth in services sectors and provides several incentives in wide variety of sectors such as healthcare, tourism, education, engineering, communications, transportation, information technology, banking, finance, management, among others.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi has stated that India's priority will be to work towards trade facilitation agreement (TFA) for services, which is expected to help in the smooth movement of professionals.

The Government of India has adopted a few initiatives in the recent past. Some of these are as follows:

- Under the Mid-Term Review of Foreign Trade Policy (2015-20), the Central Government increased incentives provided under Services Exports from India Scheme (SEIS) by two per cent.

- Ministry of Communications, Government of India, has launched DARPAN - “Digital Advancement of Rural Post Office for A New India” which is aimed at improving the quality of services, adding value to services and achieving “financial inclusion” of un-banked rural population.

- Ministry of Civil Aviation, Government of India, launched 'DigiYatra', a digital platform for air travellers that aims to develop a digital ecosystem providing consistent service and a delightful experience at every touch point of the journey.

- The Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology has launched a services portal, which aims to provide seamless access to government services related to education, health, electricity, water and local services, justice and law, pensions and benefits, through a single window.
Road Ahead

Services sector growth is governed by both domestic and global factors. The Indian facilities management market is expected to grow at 17 per cent CAGR between 2015 and 2020 and surpass the US$19 billion mark supported by booming real estate, retail, and hospitality sectors. The performance of trade, hotels and restaurants, and transport, storage and communication sectors are expected to improve. The financing, insurance, real estate, and business services sectors are also expected to continue their good run.

The implementation of the Goods and Services Tax (GST) has created a common national market and reduced the overall tax burden on goods. It is expected to reduce costs in the long run on account of availability of GST input credit, which will result in the reduction in prices of services.

Madhya Pradesh Location Map

Bandhavgarh National Park, Madhya Pradesh
Madhya Pradesh, with an area of 3, 08, 000 sq.km. is the second largest state in India after Rajasthan. It is a part of peninsular plateau of India lying in north central part, whose boundary can be classified in the north by the plains of Ganga-Yamuna, in the west by the Aravali, east by the Chhattisgarh plain and in the south by the Tapti valley and the plateau of Maharashtra.

The topography of Madhya Pradesh is defined by the Narmada Sone Valley. It is a narrow and long valley extending through almost the whole of the state from east to west.

Madhya Pradesh has not only maintained its pristine beauty as it was years ago but has also added a great deal to it for today’s travelers. Its natural settings beautified by hills, forests, rivers, rich heritages, exciting wild life and cultural diversity make it a land of many splendours.

Madhya Pradesh is resplendent with the hill ranges of the Vindhyas and the Satpuras and is green throughout. The landscape is made lucid by its rivers, whose names have the sound of water in them - Narmada, Tapti, Shipra, Betwa, Chambal, Sone and many others, carrying their own legends and history with them. So interlaced with meandering rivers, hills, lakes and forests, Madhya Pradesh has a varied natural setting of mesmerising beauty.

Jungles are opulent here and have a unique and exciting panorama of wild life. Bandhavgarh in Rewa district has hoisted to world fame for its phenomenal and solitary asset: the white tigers. National Parks of Kanha, Bandhavgarh, Pench, Shivpuri, Panna and several others offer rare opportunities to have thrills of viewing life in them.

The state has celebrated the golden jubilee of its existence in the year 2006 but it is as old as hills, witness to many civilizations. History has dotted it with distinguished marks in the shape of numerous monuments, right from rock shelters to exquisitely architectured Forts, Palaces, Temples, Stupas and innumerable other monuments.

Here is a look at some magnificent places which make Madhya Pradesh glitter on the Tourist map.

Sights to See

Khajuraho

!Khajuraho
Khajuraho stuns the world with its temples of sculptural splendour. Built by the Chandelas, a Rajput clan between 950 to 1100 AD, these temples are nonpareil, representing some most exquisite specimens of Hindu architecture and sculpture. The temples are India's unique gift to the world. Here, the male-female statues in pairs, chiseled in postures of divine union scale the zenith of sculptural art. They are a paean to life, to love, to joy, perfect in execution and sublime in expression. They were built in a truly inspired burst of creativity. Today, only 22 temples of the original 85 survive, which constitute one of the world's great artistic wonders. Monuments of Khajuraho are a World Heritage Site under the Archaeological survey of India.

Mandu

Besides its monuments, natural surroundings and history, what sets Mandu apart from other medieval cities is the tale of love and devotion going beyond the confines of royalty and religion. Mandu celebrates the romance of the gallant king of Malwa, Baz Bahadur with Rani Rupmati of unparalleled beauty and grace. An enchanting reservoir known as Rewa Kund stands witness to their legendary love story.

All over this place are spread ruins of Afghan architecture. The Central Group of monuments includes Hoshang Shah's Tomb, Jami Masjid of Mandu, The Ashrafi Mahal, Baz Bahadur's Palace, Rani Rupmati's Pavilion, The Nilkanth Shrine, Nilkanth Mahal, Jahaz Mahal, Hindola Mahal.

Another Tourist attraction is the Echo Point. The Lohani cave and temples associated, Sunpoint, near the caves.

Chachai Falls

Created by the waters of the Bihad river in Sirmaur Tehsil of Rewa District, this is one of the most beautiful waterfalls of India. The water of this 115 meter deep and 175 ft. wide fall cascading from the 500 ft. altitude creates an impression of thin fog on and around the spot and the spectators are mesmerized by its boundless beauty.

Patalkot

This place is a nature's topographical wonder. It is a 1700 ft. deep valley situated in Chhindwara district and is a home to Bharia tribe. Patalkot is highly alluring for the people on the outside because of its geographical and enormous scenic beauty and the mystic world inside. The natives here are still very close to nature and living in a comfortable balance between their own and the outside world. The place is 78 km. away from Chhindwara.

Bhimbetka

Over 600 rock shelters belonging to the Neolithic age have been discovered at Bhimbetka. Here, in vivid, panoramic detail, paintings in over 500 caves depict the life of the prehistoric cave-dwellers, making the Bhimbetka group an invaluable archaeological treasure in the history of human race. Bhimbetka has become an UNESCO world heritage site.

Pachmarhi

It is a lovely hill-station in the evergreen Satpura Ranges and is at an altitude of 1067 metres. Pachmarhi enjoys excellent weather round the year. Its most enchanting features, however, are its great natural beauty and its air of tranquility and solitude. According to legends, Pachmarhi is named after the ancient rock cut caves, where the five Pandava brothers are said to have taken refuge. Major Tourist Attractions at Pachmarhi are Priyadarshini Point, Water Falls, Shrines, Jatashankar, Rock Shelters, Dhoopgarh, Pandava Caves.

Sanchi

One of world’s famous Buddhists' pilgrimages, Sanchi is known for Stupas, Monasteries, Temples and Pillars dating from the 3rd century BC to the 12th century AD. Sanchi is also a World Heritage Site. Buddhists' Stupas at Sanchi were built by the Mauryan Emperor Ashok. The life of Lord Buddha is inscribed on the arches of Stupa gates. The major attractions at Sanchi are Great Stupa No. 1, Stupa No. 2, Stupa No. 3 and Ashokan Pillar.

Bhopal

Beautiful Bhopal, the capital city of Madhya Pradesh, is situated in picturesque setting, around two magnificent lakes. The city is literally the heart of India and casts an unusual spell on the visitor right from the moment one arrives. Historical monuments, old mosques and palaces, lakes, well laid out gardens and parks, bustling market places of the old and the new city are a feast in store for tourists. The most Prominent Tourist Places in Bhopal are Taj-ul-Masajid, Bharat Bhawan, Jama Masajid, Shaukat Mahal and Sadar Manzil, Gauhar Mahal, Upper & Lower Lakes, Van Vihar National Park, Indira Gandhi National Museum, Man Manav Sangrahalya, State Archaeological Museum, Moti Masjid or Pearl Mosque, Laxminarayan Temple and an Aquarium.

Bhojpur

About 28 km south-east of Bhopal, Bhojpur is famous for the Bhojeshwar Temple dedicated to Lord Shiva. The temple which has earned the nomenclature of the Somnath of the east, owes its origin to the 11th century Paramara King Raja Bhoj.

The partially completed Bhojeshwar Temple is a simple square with sides of over 66 feet. The richly carved dome, though incomplete, has a magnificent, soaring strength of line and is supported by four pillars. The lower doorposts are plain while the columns and upper sections inside are richly carved.

Gwalior

!Image of Sun Temple, Gwalior
This ancient capital city has been a cradle of great dynasties and a living heritage of heroism. The antiquity of the city can be traced back to 8th century, when Suraj Sen, a chieftain, founded the city and named it after Gwalipa, a legendary saint who cured him of a deadly disease. Gwalior, the city of palaces, temples and monuments witnessed the rule of great Rajput clans like Pratiharas, Kacchwahas and Tomars. Its tradition as a royal capital continued until the formation of independent India, with Scindias having their dynastic seat here. This is also the land of the prodigy of Hindustani classical music, the great Tansen. The magnificent mementos of a glorious past have been preserved with care that make Gwalior unique and timeless. The most Prominent Tourist Places in Gwalior are, Fort Man Mandir Palace, Teli Ka Mandir, Shasbahu Ka Mandir, Gujari Mahal Museum, Tansen's Tomb, Tomb of Ghaus Mohammad, Jai Vilas Palace, Jai Vilas Museum, Memorials (The town is dotted by memorials of earliest freedom fighters like Tatya Tope, Rani Laxmi Bai of Jhansi and several Scindia princes. All these are reminders of a proud past and signify Gwalior's place in the nation's roll of honour), Kala Vithika, Municipal Museum and Sun Temple.

Chanderi

The town has a large fort, built during the Mughal period. There are several monuments of the Malwa Sultans and the Bundela Rajputs. The old Chanderi town is dotted with numerous Jain temples dating back to 9th and 10th century, which attract thousands of Jain pilgrims. The picturesque town surrounded by hills, lakes and forests is also known for the fine sarees and brocades.

Orchha

The ancient city is still untouched by present times and retains the medieval aura. The magnificent fort complex houses spectacular palaces and temples. The important ones are Jehangir Mahal, Raj Mahal, Rai Praveen Mahal, Ram Raja Temple, Chaturbhuj Temple, Laxminarayan Temple etc. These palaces and temples were built during the 16th and 17th centuries and are marvels of architecture.

Indore

The name Indore is derived from Indreshwar temple built in 18th century. Situated in the heart of the Malwa plateau, it was given to Malhar Rao Holkar by the Maratha Peshwas. Planned and built by Rani Ahilyabai, the brave Holkar queen, Indore lies to the extreme west of the state. It used to be the capital of Holkar dynasty and has an important historical background. Thus, the city has some interesting monuments associated with the medieval Holkar dynasty. Formerly a major textile trading centre, today's Indore is a thriving city, developing in economic, social and cultural spheres so much so that it is termed as Mumbai of Madhya Pradesh. It has witnessed a remarkable industrial growth and has rightfully acquired the name as the commercial capital of the state. Being a major centre of economic activity, Indore offers everyone from big industrialists and manufacturers to wholesalers and retailers, from renowned hotel groups to small food caterers to grow and prosper. Fast food hangouts, glitzy shopping malls, multiplexes and discotheques have all fashioned Indore into a metro city.

Pithampur, called Detroit of India where a large number of automobile industries are based, is situated near Indore. A number of hospitality groups have established their five-star and seven-star hotels in Indore. It is an entry point for important tourist places like Ujjain, Dhar, Mandu, Omkareshwar & Maheshwar. The most Prominent Tourist Places in Indore are Rajwada, Bade Ganpati, Lal Bagh Palace, Chhatri Bag, Kanch Mandir, Central Museum Gandhi Hall, Annapurna Temple etc.

Dhar

It was the capital of Paramara kings, of whom Raja Bhoj is the best known. The city came under the Muslim influence during the rule of Delhi Sultanate. The architecture in Dhar reveals a combination of Hindu, Afghan and Mughal styles. The image of goddess from Bhojshala temple of Dhar is now displayed in the British Museum, London.

Caves of Bagh

The Caves of Bagh, christened after a neighboring village of that name, are situated at a distance of 97 km. from Dhar among the southern slopes of the Vindhya hills. The cliff side, in which they are excavated, rises some 150 feet above the Bagh river, and is remarkable as being the only outcrop of sandstone in an otherwise basaltic region. Above the sandstone, however, is superimposed a deep band of claystone, and it is probably to the excessive weight of this band, and to a moisture percolating from it that most of the damage in the caves is due. The caves extend over a frontage of about 45.72 metres, but are not all contiguous.

Omkareshwar

Omkareshwar is set on the confluence of the rivers Narmada and Kaveri. Omkareshwar has one of the twelve Jyotirlingas enshrined in the temple of Omkar Mandhata amidst beautiful surroundings. This medieval temple was built in Brahmani style and is encircled by the river Narmada and its stream Kaveri. The architecture of the temple is magnificent. Gouri-Somnath temple, Siddhanath temple of the island & one cave of Adi Shankaracharya are other spots of significance here.

Maheshwar

Maheshwar is a beautiful town on the banks of river Narmada. Its old name is Mahishmati. Devi Ahilya Bai established it as capital place of Holkars. Maharani Ahilya Bai built a beautiful fort and ghat here, Ahilya museum, the temples of Kaleshwar, Raj- Rajeshwar & Vithaleshwar, Peshwa ghat and canopy over the grave of the members of Holkar family are worth visiting. Boating from Ahilya ghat to Sahastradhara, at a distance of 3 km is a thrilling experience. Maheshwar is famous for its silk and cotton sarees.
Ujjain

It is located on the banks of river Shipra and is one of the oldest and holiest of Indian cities. Formerly, a centre of learning, Ujjain is sanctified with the memories of Sandipani Rishi, great poet Kalidas, King Vikramaditya and Emperor Ashok. It is the venue of grand Kumbh Mela, held once in twelve years. One of the principal places of pilgrimage of the country, Ujjain finds mention in Vedas, Puranas, Ramayan & Mahabharat. It is the seat of one of the twelve Jyotirlingas of the country. The most prominent tourist places in Ujjain are Sandipani Ashram, Mahakaleshwar Temple, Harsiddhi Temple, Bade Ganeshji Ka Mandir, Gopal Mandir, Chintaman Ganesh Temple, Mangainath Temple, Jantar Mantar (Astronomical Observatory), Kaliadeh Palace.

Jabalpur

!Dhuandhar Waterfall, Jabalpur

Jabalpur is considered to be the cultural capital of Madhya Pradesh. It has a collection of historical, archaeological and natural places.

It is also a major administrative and educational centre. The spacious cantonment area is dotted with unusual number of schools and colleges. Antiquity of the town can be traced back to Mahabharat era. Jabalpur was the pleasure resort and capital of Gond Kings during the 12th century and was later the seat of Kalchuri dynasty. It is also the most convenient base to visit the famous Kanha (173 km) and Bandhavgarh (194 km) National Parks.

The most prominent tourist places in Jabalpur are Marble Rocks at Bheraghat, Madan Mahal Fort, Sangram Sagar and Bajnamath, Rani Durgavati Museum, Dhuandhar Waterfall, Chausath Yogini Temple, The Samadhi of Rani Durgavati, Devtal, Pisanhari Ki Madiya, Tripuri.

Amarkantak

Amarkantak, the source of the river Narmada, one of the holiest rivers of the country is full of natural beauty. Kalidas, the great Sanskrit poet, has depicted in his literature the beauty of Amarkantak. Besides the source of river Narmada, Mai Ki Bagiya, Kapil Dhara, Dugdha Dhara, Waterfalls are worth seeing. Narmada Udgam Mandir, a temple built at the source of the river Narmada, is one of the holiest places in India. Annual 'Shivaratri' and 'Nag Panchmi' fairs celebrated here attract thousands of pilgrims.

'Deep Daan' in the Divine Narmada

'Narmada Jayanti' is a festival that symbolises the devoutness of the people of Madhya Pradesh towards this pious river. For the people of Madhya Pradesh, the Narmada is not just a river but also a mother that has been nurturing them and their lands for ages. The festival, falling on 30th January, marks the birthday of the river and is celebrated with extravagant fervour in Amarkantak, from where the river originates and also at its several other bathing ghats in the state including that of Hoshangabad.

The most remarkable of this fete is the way people release lighted lamps in the holy river as offerings of the prayers.

Reaching Madhya Pradesh

By Air

Madhya Pradesh State is well linked through flight from major tourist destinations and cities of India like Delhi, Mumbai, Pune, Nagpur, Hyderabad, Vishakhapatnam, Bangalore, Srinagar, Ahmedabad etc. Major airports in Madhya Pradesh state are located in Bhopal, Indore, Gwalior, Jabalpur, Khajuraho.

By Rail

Madhya Pradesh State is well connected by Indian railways network. Most of the major railway tracks passes through this state due to its central location. All important cities and tourist destinations are linked with direct trains to Madhya Pradesh like: Jaipur, Agra, Delhi, Mumbai, Bangalore, Hyderabad, Chennai, Kolkata, Ranthambore, Udaipur, Ahmedabad, Puri, Haridwar, Varanasi etc.

By Road

Extensive network of National Highways and State Highways interlink in Madhya Pradesh helps visitors in reaching the place by roads. These well-maintained highways easily connect Madhya Pradesh to the adjoining areas within and outside the state. If we consider the capital city of Bhopal as the center, then places like Gwalior (422 km), Indore (187 km), Sanchi (45 km), Agra (541 km), Jaipur (572 km), Khajuraho (387 km), Mandu (290 km) and Nagpur (345 km) can be easily accessed by road.

Madhya Pradesh State border touches 5 states i.e. Gujarat, Rajasthan, Uttar Pradesh, Chattisgarh & Maharashtra. All these states are well linked from cities and towns of Madhya Pradesh by road.

State Profile: Haryana

(About Haryana: Information on Industries, Geography, Economy & Growth)

FACTFILE

Capital: Chandigarh

Geographical Area (sq km): 44,212

State Language: Hindi, Punjabi and English

Literacy Rate: 75.5 per cent

Key Industries:
Automotive, agro-based industry, IT and ITeS, textiles, oil refining, biotechnology and petrochemicals

Haryana is among the northern most states in India and adjacent to national capital Delhi. It is surrounded by Uttar Pradesh in the east, Punjab in the west, Himachal Pradesh in the north and Rajasthan in the south. The state surrounds the national capital city, New Delhi, from three sides. Historically an agrarian state, Haryana today is a well-developed industrial state.

The state is one of India's largest automobile hubs and accounts for two thirds of passenger cars, 50 per cent of tractors and 60 per cent of motorcycles manufactured in the country. The state has also emerged as a base for the knowledge industry, including IT and biotechnology. Haryana is the third-largest exporter of software and one of the preferred destinations for IT/ITeS facilities.

Although Haryana has an area covering just 1.3 per cent of the country, Haryana contributes nearly 3.58 per cent to India's GSDP. During FY12-17, the state's GSDP grew at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 12.96 per cent. At current prices, the total GSDP of Haryana was about US$ 85 billion in 2016-17.

The state has attracted Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) equity inflows worth US$ 71.54 billion during the period April 2000 to September 2017, according to data released by Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP).

The state government of Haryana has been committed to creating a progressive business environment. The state offers a wide range of fiscal and policy incentives for businesses under the Industrial and Investment Policy, 2011. Haryana stands 14th among Indian states in rankings based on ease of doing business and reforms implementation, according to a study by the World Bank and KPMG.

Recent Developments:

- During 2017-18, 206.55 km of national highways were constructed in the state.
- Amazon, the Seattle-headquartered e-commerce company that operates an online marketplace opened its 22nd fulfilment centre in Sonipat, Haryana.
- A medical college will be set up in each district of Haryana to meet the rising healthcare requirements.
- A Swedish organisation Kunskapsskolan is working with the government to improve vocational education at 100 state run schools.

Key Sectors

- Haryana is a preferred destination for auto majors and auto-component manufacturers. The state is host to many large automotive players.
- Gurgaon has emerged as a preferred destination for the IT industry in North India, with more than 400 IT and ITeS companies.
- Haryana aggressively promotes organic farming; financial assistance is provided to farmers for production and use of vermicompost.
- Abundant availability of raw materials gives Haryana a competitive advantage in the textile sector. The total cotton production in Haryana during FY17 was around 2 million bales.
